A Word to Republicans

The hope of the party lies in the expansion of a stalwart Republican press. The Repub-Hean who reads or otherwise helps to support a Democratic paper to the exclusion of one of his own party necespapers is untrue to the Republican cause.

Unanimously subscribed to by the National Republican League

J. S. CLARKSON, President. A. B. HUMPHREY, Secretary.

"WHEN I picked up the pen to indite my Tariff message," says the Hon. GROVER CLEVELAND, "I had but one man in my mind ple.

from the time I FARMER'S INTER- wrote the first word name, and that was the American farmer, but he did not understand me." It will be noticed that in this sentence Mr. CLEVELAND attributes to the farmer not only inability to understand the ex-President's ponderous phrases and exploded fallacies, for which the farmer may surely be excused, but absolute ignorance of one of the vital questions which affect his own welfare. When it is remembered that Mr. CLEVELAND himself confessed shortly before his nomination that he "didn't know a thing about the Tariff," and that when he did write his message he wrote it at the dictation of Southern politicians of the ROGER Q. MILLS type, this assertion appears a little less than impudent. The advocate of a consistent Protective Tariff, which shall protect alike the interests of all classes, the farmer included. is well content to leave his system to the practical examination of the farmer himself, nor does he think that closet economists or political theorists are better able to judge of the feasibility of such system than the very man for whose benefit more than anything else it has been adopted. The farmer needs sions will be cheerfully supplied upon no diagram nor does he require extended notice. dissertations from the Hon. GROVER CLEVELAND to enable him, for instance, to understand the meaning of figures ready far too much, and devote it to the cultivation of some of the products enumerated in the above table, a market for which is assured them by the Protection given to farm products in the McKinley bill, enduring prosperity would come to the American farming population. The farmer who is probably the most intelligent element of all our industrial classes, understands perfectly his own needs, and seeing them, he understands, too, that his interest in Protection is greater than that of any other producer. He understands that the Tariff not only places duties on competing farm products, and thus protects him directly, but also that every mill, every factory, every workshop, es-75 tablished in this country by that Tariff is so much indirect Protection to him through the market it creates for his products. When the American farmer, tiring of that system which has made him prosperous in the past, desires to destroy his home market, and place himself at the mercy of the foreigner, he will call in the Hon. GROVER CLEVELAND to help him. Till that time he will rest in placid enjoyment of the good that he hath, despite the ignorance attributed to him by the Free-trade dema-

ISAAC P. GRAY of Indiana "accepts the situation." That was all the Convention offered him.

THE idea of carrying the state of DOUGLAS, LINCOLN and GRANT for CLEVELAND is an iridescent dream of idiotic Democracy. The suggestion is doubtless pleasing to the Democratic mind, but is an insult to the commonwealth of Illinois.

The Republican party says in effect to the Democratic Free-trade vender, you must pay a license to enter the United States. There is scarcely a village or city in the United States that does not protect its home interests against the wandering peddler on the same princi-

The House Throws Down the Gauntlet to the Senate and the Edict Goes Forth -It is Presumed that the Senate Will Accept the Challenge.

WASHINGTON, June SO .- A matter of great significance happened in the congressional halls Wednesday. The house has thrown down the gauntlet to the senate, and the edict has gone forth that congressmen must make their arrangements to remain at the capital all summer. The house insists that the senate shall recede from its amend ments making increases in the important appropriations for governmental expenses, and the threat is made that if the senate refuses to yield as suggested, the democratic house will not permit the important money bills to pass. Evidence of this purpose was given Wednesday by the second rejection by the house of the conference reports, which represented the best compromises that could be arrived at by the committeemen on the part of the two houses. Anticipating similar action by the house upon other appropriation bills the democrats of the senate have seen fit to refrain from carrying into effect their declared purpose to obstruct the passage of certain important amendments brought forward by the republicans-notably that to carry into effect the ocean mail subsidy act; but to allow those amendments to go upon the bills, with the full understanding that the house will make the fight to throw them out

It is assumed that the senate will accept the challenge given by the house, and, if so, that the fight will continue on that line all summer, and the present session of congress will extend well upon election day. Wednesday the house refused to accept the Indian appropriation bill as reported by conference, making, as stated, the second conference report that democratic body has repudiated. Upon the senate side there is a determination to stand fast, and the president will encourage them to

The Balloon Bursts.

London, June 30 -A terrible accident occurred at the Crystal Palace here Wednesday afternoon. One of the attractions in the grounds is a captive balloon, which carries passengers up as far as the rope attached to it will allow. Wednesday afternoon it ascended with four occupants, and after reaching a height of one hundred feet, it burst, Capt, Dale, one of the occupants, struck the ground with terrific force, and was instantly killed. The other three passengers were terribly injured, and it is not believed that they will live.

Coal Prices Advance.

St. Petersburg, June 30.-A number of doctors sent by the government have arrived at Baku to aid the physicians there in combating the ravages of cholera. The Russian flotilla in the Caspian sea has been ordered to watch all ships leaving Persian ports. The quarantine stations in the Trans-Caspian territory have been increased in number, and a week has been added to the time to which individuals are subjected to quarantine. All imports of food are subjected to a strict medical medical science will be done to stamp out the dreaded scourge.

In Dzisak, in Turkestan, 150 of the inhabitants have died with the disease in four days.

The epidemic prevails in a more virulent form at Kaakha, in the Trans-Caspion territory The fears that the disease would invade European Russia have been realized, and already several hundred cases have been reported on this side of the frontier. The inhabitants and the troops stationed in the towns along the frontier are panie stricken. The wealthier classes of the population are seeking safety in flight from the infected towns and villages.

VIENNA, June 80.—The governments of Germany and Austria are acting in concert in the adoption of measures to prevent cholera from entering their respective countries. Prof. Drasche, of the Vienna sanitary board, who has been studying cholera for thirty years, thinks it improbable that the disease will spread beyond Russia, even if it gets a foothold there. He says that in other countries bad sanitation, like that which obtains in Russia, has become a thing of the past.

CINCINNATI, June 80. - The new national committee assembled immediately after the adjournment of the convention, Wednesday, in one of the rooms over the entrance to the hall The old chairman, Samuel Dickie, of Michigan, was chosen to preside over the body by acclamation.
